

SUPT. MASON NAMED ON RESOLUTION COMMITTEE

Many Local Teachers Attend Two-Day State Meet in Columbus

About 5000 members of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association were in attendance at their fifty-seventh annual session which was held in Columbus, Friday and Saturday of last week, with nearly the entire membership of the Marion Teachers' Association present.

Supt. J. H. Mason of the Marion Schools was appointed chairman of the resolution committee for the meeting. J. J. Phillips of Lancaster, was elected president for the coming year during a business session.

One of the finest addresses, according to the Marion representatives, was that given by Miss Emily Griffith, of Denver, who conducted a school for delinquent and backward children, which now has a staff of 1000. Her subject was "The Backward Child."

A prominent address was made by Dr. W. G. Thompson, president of Ohio State University, on "Fifty Years of Ohio Education."

A Thelma C. Chaffin, of Indian Education, was the subject of an address by Dr. Thompson, who is superintendent of Massachusetts schools, was especially well received.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY AROUSED OVER KILLINGS

More Than Hundred Shots Fired from Machine Guns in Automobiles

Marion, Ill., Nov. 8.—Entire Williamson County was aroused, again, by the latest thugdom in southern Illinois—bootleg warfare which Saturday night resulted in the killing of May Jeff Stone, 51, of Cuba, near Havana, and John "Ape" Miles, 21, who was in Stone's automobile.

Chief of Police John Keef, who was with Stone, was shot in the hand.

Several witnesses who have been reluctant to give any information which might lead to the identity of the men who fired the volley of machine gun and rifle bullets were summoned to Coroner Bell for the inquest here today.

The killing of Mayor Stone and Mayor was executed with the ease of a Chicago gang killing. More than a hundred shots were fired from machine guns mounted in automobiles.

Mayor Stone had many political enemies. He was recently mentioned on the grounds of self-defense in the slaying of John Freeman, a deputy sheriff, and political foe.

While Stone's death was sought, it is believed young Miles' death was needed in that he was caught in the crossfire of the two gangs.

PRINCESS ILEANA ASKS FOR RETURN OF AYRES

Abroad Queen Marie's Special Train, in Montana, Nov. 8.—Princess Ileana of Romania, defied the distinctions of social caste today and pleaded the cause of an exiled friend, a youthful American automobile salesman, "Bunny" Ayres.

Ayres, known as J. H. Ayres on the Ford Automobile Co. payroll, who wears a raccoon coat and has a breezy way.

He was fired from the royal train for "making statements," but the princess believes it was because he took her motor and to the Washington-Columbia football game in Seattle.

"It is a shame," declared her highness today. "He was a nice boy and it was I who asked him to go driving with me."

The pretty princess has taken the matter to Col. John H. Carroll, acting for the railroads as host to her majesty, and there is every reason to believe that Ayres will rejoin the party at Denver.

Ayres, who is not backward about putting forward the merits of the make-over he is supplying the royal party along their transcontinental route, told newspapermen it was costing Henry Ford $250,000. A press association quoted Ayres as saying Ford was paying the incidental expenses of Queen Marie's trip to the extent of $200,000. Ayres denied the latter statement.

Traveling in grand style Saturday, the same "Bunny" Ayres, with Princess Ileana at the wheel, had a mile-a-minute ride over 100 miles of the scenic lined highway from Burlington to Seattle, punctuated by a lunch at the side of the road.

Simpson Holding Lead in Murder Trial Despite Fact Seven are Against Him

Prosecutor Called "Super-Showman" in Famous Case

N. J. Nov. 8.—Picture of a man six feet tall, with a head like a football, and the face of a giant, the late man, who was a "super-showman" ever since he strode a courtroom floor. Today, as the fifth day of the trial opened, it was generally agreed that on the stand, Simpson is a king, although the jury has not yet decided whether he is a king or a fool. He has, however, put the defense on the defensive by the manner in which he is presenting his case. His attorneys are as baffling as the murder mystery itself. He doesn't do anything in the "regular" way. He has the voice of the speaker, too, in the frame of mind that they are constantly taking.

"What will Simpson spring next?"

Thrill a Day
This great trial is a man problem at least one trial a day. Yesterday, it was his entering an ambulance to the Superior Hospital and leaving the state's star witness, Mrs. Jane Simpson, who was supposed to be seriously ill, taken out of there and brought to a hospital in Simpson's own town, Jersey City. Today, it may be something else. He leaves the impression he has a few other moves up his sleeve for the days to come.

The defense has lately protested against the way Simpson has of calling witnesses in better-skilled fashion, instead of presenting the state's case in its chronological order. "These tactics have bewildered the defense at times,"

Time and again the defense, led by the portly, dark-faced Robert H. McCarter, has appealed to the court to put a stop to the "mystifying order," or "lack of order" in which the story of the murder of Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills in a "show lane" four years ago is being given to the jury. They also protest against the "very little" prosecutor's methods of shutting off one witness before he is done and taking up the story of another, later recalling the first witness. Thus Simpson confuses the defense and bides until the last moment, the vital key to the state's case. The court, while conceding that Simpson's method is "most unusual," has found no legal precedent to rule against it. And down in the courtroom pit, the battle—six lawyers against one—goes certainly on.

AIMEE SAYS DEVIL IS GREATEST LIAR IN TOWN

Thousands of Persons Crowd Angelus Temple, but Fail To Get Thrill

Los Angeles, Nov. 8.—Expecting to hear Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson name "the greatest liar in Los Angeles," thousands of persons jammed into Angelus Temple last night. What they heard was this:

"He is the devil." And that was as tangible as the woman evangelist became.

Mrs. McPherson dwelt at considerable length on liars in general and those in Los Angeles in particular. She said there was one that was even more of a prevaricator than the one she named. "But I will expose him if it is the last thing I do before I die," she stated.

Following this assertion, Mrs. McPherson reviewed the different things of which she is accused, and made a sweeping denial of them all.

At the conclusion of a preliminary hearing which lasted five weeks, Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sieff, were held to trial in Superior Court on conspiracy charges, the outgrowth of Mrs. McPherson's story of being kidnapped.

for the defense, took the witness stand for cross-examination.

Refuses to Tell Name
"Who was with you in the car?" asked McCarter.

"A woman."
"How long were you there?"
"About an hour and a half."

"What was the name of the woman?"
"I refuse to say."
McCarter demanded Eiling tell him who she was.

Simpson objected vigorously.
"I hold, your honor, that this is an exceptional instance where the witness is not required to answer. The woman might be married and it would ruin her."

"I insist on knowing the woman's name," thundered McCarter.
Woman Now Married
The presiding judge, Charles W. Parker and Frank L. Cherry, held a whispered conference. Judge Parker then turned to the witness and asked him why he didn't want to tell the woman's name. Eiling hung his head then said:

"Your honor, the woman is married. She is the mother of two children."
The justices conferred again and Judge Parker told the witness he must tell the woman's name.

"Her name is Jenny Lamfort," said Eiling in a barely audible tone.
Eiling testified that he had supper at the girl's home and then drove her to De Russes' lane in his Ford touring car. They remained in the lane two or three hours.

"I think you said a while ago you were in the lane an hour and a half," interrupted McCarter.
Simpson came through like a streak of lightning with a correction.

"The witness testified he had been in the lane an hour and a half up to the time he saw Mrs. Gibson."
The court agreed with Simpson.

LONG PACIFIC CABLE
WILL SOON BE LAID
Largest Ship at Bamfield, British Columbia, Preparing for Project

Seattle, Nov. 8.—The world's largest cable ship, the British steamer Dominica, is preparing at Bamfield, British Columbia, to lay the longest ocean cable in the world—the Bamfield-Fanning Island trans-Pacific cable, 3,625 nautical miles in length.

This cable is part of the British government's program for improving communication between Canada and Australia.

The Dominica carries the most valuable cargo ever stored aboard a cable ship—3,625 tons of cable valued at several millions of dollars—and will make the greatest speed ever made by a cable ship while laying the giant coil in the mid-ocean depths, nine miles an hour.

According to information along the Seattle waterfront the Dominica sailed on her maiden voyage from England Sept. 10 and was to arrive in Bamfield about the middle of October. She was built for the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company of Greenwich, England, by Hunter & Richardson, is about 30,000 gross and is 540 feet long and 50 feet wide.

The cable is coiled in four great tanks each of which will accommodate nearly 50,000 coils of cable.

The carrying capacity or working speed of the new cable, when laid, will be five times as great as that of the first Canada-Australia cable laid in 1902.

ENGLISH RADIO PREACHER
QUITS THROUGH ILLNESS
London, Nov. 8.—The Rev. "Pip" Shephard, London's most popular vicar, who has become known to thousands through his radio sermons, is resigning at Christmas through ill health.

His church of Saint Martin's in the Fields, situated at the east side of Trafalgar Square, has been crowded ever since he was appointed vicar, and so great is his popularity that when his resignation was announced from the pulpit several women broke down and cried.

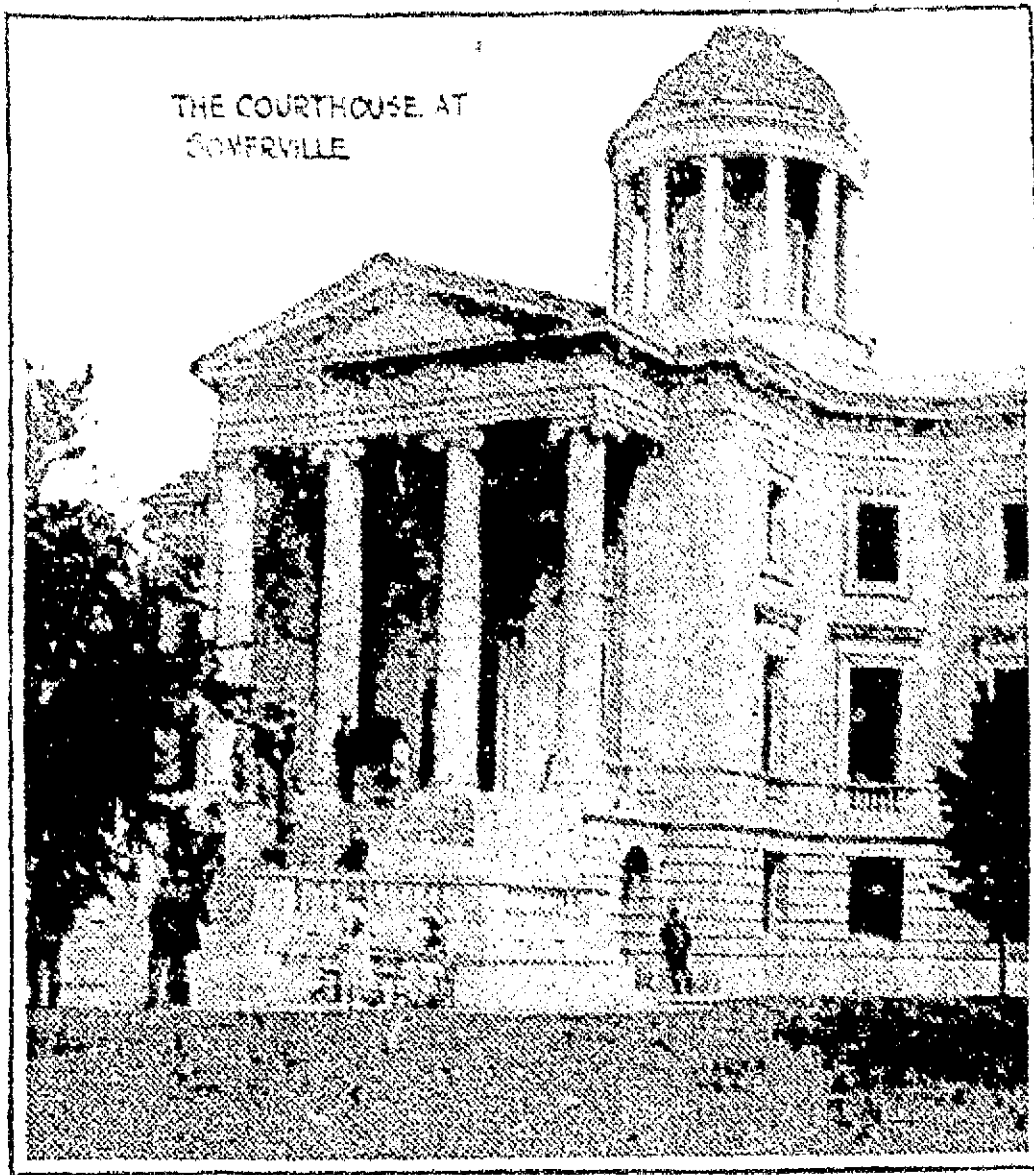

He gained nation-wide fame by allowing the crypt of his church to be kept open all night to house London's unfortunates, and by his broad-mindedness in religious matters.

In the coming tournament in Philadelphia for the world's pocket billiard championship the real battle is expected to be between Ralph Greenleaf and Frank Tiborski, both former national champions and bitter personal rivals.

It is a long time since Yale, Harvard and Princeton have all had to acknowledge defeat on the gridiron so early in the season as was the case this year.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY
PUTS ITS "O. K." ON AUTOS
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 8.—College drivers shall not be barred from the University of Minnesota campus.

This announcement by E. E. Nicholson, dean of student affairs, set at rest the fears of college boys who have injured all summer in developing their hand painted autos for use this fall and winter.

"There are too many student automobiles," Dean Nicholson said, "but we cannot legislate against them because too many students need their cars in coming to and from school."

So although Ohio State, Illinois, Wisconsin and other universities have barred students from using their autos the college driver will survive in Minnesota.

Jack Jennings, who in 1924 was the champion jockey of France, is a licensed lay reader of the Church of England. Each morning the "parson" as he is called, conducts religious services for the stable boys and other track followers.

TWO MEN IN HOSPITAL AFTER CROSSING CRASH

Milo Brady and Fred L. Kramer Injured in Accident on Silver-St

Milo Brady, 3501 Commercial st. and Fred L. Kramer, 202 Bellevue av., are in City Hospital today. Mr. Brady is in a critical condition, as the result of an automobile crash in which they were riding having been wrecked when struck by a Hooking Valley freight train at the Silver-St crossing about 4 o'clock this morning. Jesse P. Canine of 150 1/2 N. Main st., owner and driver of the machine, a Nash sedan, and William Naylor, another passenger, escaped practically unharmed. That all occupants of the car were not killed is regarded as miraculous, as the automobile was completely demolished and carried about 200 feet on the tender of the railway engine.

Naylor's only injury was a slight scratch on one of his legs, while Canine escaped without even the slightest injury.

Brady has several broken ribs as a result of the accident and his condition is regarded as serious. Kramer, whose recovery is certain, according to hospital authorities, was badly cut and bruised about the face and body.

The four men were returning from a trip to Kenton and failed to notice the approaching train as they neared the crossing.

Eleven Teams Still Roosting High in National Football Prospects

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Having been caught out on the usual limb when the season's championship crop was down in the gravel with the best of the gridiron penitents. Included among the fallen peaches that now will be harvested with the lemon crop are Missouri, Kansas Aggies, and Holy Cross. The latter got a tie with Fordham, which is tantamount to saying that it is not a championship football team, even if it has been that point had been few.

Missouri lost to Oklahoma just as a time when the boys in the power were leaving the gridiron to attend to their business. But now Missouri will do well to win the Valley Conference title. It is not Kansas Aggies' defeat by Marquette that the valley situation presents a gloomy picture. It looks like an early end to the season.

One might say the cause for the national expectations with some of the still roosting high in the branches of the championship tree. They are Ohio State, Stanford, Brown, Army, Lafayette, Navy, Notre Dame, Tennessee, Alabama, New York University, and Boston College.

However, hardly more than six of these will go through the winter undefeated. Off hand, I would name the following as the best hope for the championship: Ohio State, Brown, Lafayette, Navy, Stanford, and Oregon Aggies.

Having taken Kentucky into the championship, Alabama now must account for Florida and Georgia. It should do this. Lafayette hardly can hope with only Superdome and Trenchard to back it. Brown's Harvard and Yale, the two who were good grass when they were in the championship, have been beaten by Princeton 12 to 0, while Yale's record is third string with a win over Cornell, a tie with Princeton, and a loss to Maryland. That is a record that is hardly in the line of hope.

Both the Army and Navy are entered in the power in running on the basis of more than 50 years against the best of the West. Army's record is still in the line of hope. Georgetown and the Army and all which more or less proved its case by beating Syracuse—almost but not quite. It will prove its case when it beats Vanderbilt. If even Michigan kept the Big Ten race hot by running up 37 points on Wisconsin, which may or may not have been a surprise. However, there is no doubting the unexpected nature of the Yale and Harvard defeat at Syracuse by Georgetown and that of West Virginia by Pittsburgh, although the writer was pleased to see that one coming, and, of course, the downfall of Missouri and Kansas Aggies.

Patsy's Patter
 Gossip and Guesses in the World of Sport
 By Pat Murphy

WHILE Ohio State is favored to win over Michigan at Columbus next Saturday, there is a chance for Michigan to upset the dope bucket and take the game from Jack Wiley's warriors. Any Ohio State fan who has doubts about this year's game can have his money until next year and bet on a sure thing. Ohio will help Michigan dedicate her new stadium October 22, 1927, and if Michigan wins anything, all she will need to beat Michigan will be a line man and a waterboy. The old-time stadium dedication is expected to hold good for the Wolverines as it has for all the big colleges which have opened new home grounds in the past few years.

BILLY Gibson, the astute New York manager of box-fighters, not satisfied with having piloted Benny Leonard into the lightweight championship and Gene Tunney into the heavyweight, has now taken Louis "Kid" Kaplan under his wing and is pointing for the lightweight crown for his latest protégé. Gibson may be able to make a champion out of Kaplan, as he is probably as good as any in this sorry division now, but he will not have the champion he had when he was handling the only Benah.

ONE thing of more than passing interest to American League fans that probably will result from the naming of Dan Howley to succeed George Sieler at St. Louis, will be the return to the big show of Steve O'Neill, who for so many years carried the flag for the Cleveland Indians. When Steve left the big show in the Boston Red Sox and the Yankees, Howley took him on at Toronto, and the Irishman has been catching good ball in the International League. Now Howley wants him as assistant manager and coach for pitchers.

BRYAN DOWNEY, former Columbus, has been within shooting distance of the middleweight title for a good many years, has opened a gymnasium in Cleveland, and expects to turn out some champions of his own. He has not yet given up the idea of winning the middleweight crown, and often breaks into print with a challenge for Tiger Flowers, or any middleweight in the world.

JOESTING IN TIE WITH MARTY KAROW FOR HONOR

Harding Comes from Behind, Ties Mansfield, 7-7

Red and Black Battles Way to Even Break After Enemy Eleven Amasses Early Lead

Marion Gridders Plow Through Heavy Richland County Forward Wall in Last Period Against Great Odds; Warriors Jubilant Over Outcome of Match

BY EDWIN SCHOENLEB
PURE GRIT! That's what Harding High's football team is made of and that's what kept Mansfield High from a long awaited victory Saturday.

Facing a team doped to be at least two touchdowns better than it was, the determined football squad of the local school simply would not give up.

If Harding High ever had an excuse for giving up the ghost before the end of the battle, it was presented Saturday afternoon, three minutes after the initial whistle blew on the new athletic field of Mansfield.

Mansfield has a wonderful football aggregation and it showed it Saturday when it received the oval on the kickoff and staged a big parade down the avenue of white lines, not calling a halt until it had marched across that particular mark designated as Harding's goal line.

But Harding also has an excellent set of grid warriors. And they showed it Saturday when they refused to surrender in the face of the greatest odds ever thrust upon a team in the North Central Ohio League.

First Touchdown
 It took exactly three minutes for Mansfield to make the first touchdown and those three minutes were certain to be the breaking or making of the local gridlers. The final score shows that they did not break.

It is true that Mansfield entered the game without its star punter and open field runner, Perkins, but on the first play of the game following the kickoff, Hattinen, Jerkin's substitute, ripped off 15 yards straight through the line and continued during the remainder of the first trot down the field, carrying the ball most of the distance to the goal line.

Place-Kick Practices
 Capt. Born of Harding High, turned the game into a place-kick practice session beginning early in the second quarter when his team was held on the 30-yard line. On four occasions in the second half the Marion full-back dropped back for his foot exercise, and it may be said that he was close enough in his work that, following every try, Mansfield backers would have a sigh of relief.

The Richland County crew was within striking distance of the goal line only twice. On the one occasion, McMullen played through for a touchdown. On the other, three quarters later, McMullen failed in a place-kick from his 30-yard line, with the wind back of him.

Aerial Attack
 Combined with their determination and fighting spirit, the grid men of the local school carried with them Saturday an aerial attack that all times baffled the enemy.

Advancing of the ball via the air route began early in the third quarter, when Born completed a pass to Bob Merchant which netted eight yards. It was the first pass of the game and many more were to follow, much to the sorrow of the confident foes. Another pass to Garrett brought the ball to the 20-yard line but Born failed to beat the ball over the bar when Mansfield held firm for the consecutive downs.

It was a pass from Born to W. Merchant in the first minutes of the final period that carried the oval to within eight yards of the Mansfield goal. The pass was perfect and reception was equally as perfect. Born threw the ball against a 30 mile gale.

With the pick-up on the eighty-yard line, Born plunged through center for six yards on two attempts, and W. Merchant finished the work with two quarterback sneaks through the same hole. The Harding captain showed results of his place-kick practice when he made good for the extra point that tied the score.

Fight Against Tie
 Fighting desperately to break the tie, Mansfield received the Harding kickoff with nine minutes to go and began another parade. Born rained the

BISHOPS TO MEET WITH RESERVE IN CLEVELAND FIELD

Game Will Be First Between Teams in Six Years

Delaware, O., Nov. 8.—Marking a resumption of football relations between the two schools after a lapse of six years, Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops will invade Cleveland next Saturday to meet Gordon Locke's Western Reserve eleven in an Ohio conference game.

It will be Wesleyan's first gridiron tilt with Reserve since 1921 when the Cleveland team won, 7 to 0.

Cleveland is preparing a gala reception for the Bishop team and its backers who will accompany the players on a special train to the Forest City. Alumni of Wesleyan in Ohio's largest city are in charge of the reception.

Relations with Reserve on the gridiron date back to 1896. Since then 11 games have been played between teams representing the two institutions, each school taking seven contests.

Despite Reserve's recent setbacks, the Bishops are anticipating a hard struggle and will be guided this week by Coach Gauthier with that thought in mind.

Following the Reserve game, Wesleyan will close its season against Denison university in a Buckeye Athletic association contest here the following week.

MARION BUICKS LOSE TO TIFFIN
 Game Is Rolled on Stag Recreation Alleys
 The Marion Buick, a bowling team, was defeated by a game and all-around third contest of the match with the team representing Lambright's Restaurant of Tiffin, Friday night, on the Stag Recreation Alleys in the latter city.

The Buicks lost the first game to the Tiffin men by a margin of 40 points. The locals won the second contest 826 to 807, and tied the final game with 907 points.

Burnett was high scorer for the local crew rolling a score of 225 in the final game. Ireland led the Tiffin team in scoring, being credited with 214 points in the second game and 205 in the third.

The Tiffin is a member of the all-star league in that city and won the championship there last year. A return match has been scheduled for Saturday night, Nov. 20, on the Y. M. C. A. alleys here.

The Marion Buicks bowl at Delaware Wednesday night against the Delaware city team and will go to return Friday night for the third and deciding tilt with the New York Central outfit of that city.

INDIANS LOSE TO KENTUCKY TEAM

La Rue Gridders Drop Contest at Ashland, 34-0

World's Famous Indians of LaRue, yesterday met defeat at the hands of the football team of the American Roll-top Mills of Ashland, Ky., on the historic field. The final score was 34 to 0.

The Indians, formerly the famous Oorang, displayed a slashing offense but were weak on the defense, being unable to halt the onslaught of the Ashland eleven.

The Indians were somewhat handicapped by the absence of several men from the Haskell University who were expected to join the team before the game yesterday.

John Levi, famous Haskell Indian, who ranks with Jim Thorpe and other great football stars, will be with the LaRue eleven next Sunday when the World's Famous Indians journey to Chicago for a battle with the Chicago Bulls.

In winning the Pacific Coast League pennant this year the Los Angeles club finished in first place for the first time in five years.

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

My father's face on the wall in the winter when I was a boy. I remember that when I was a boy, I used to look at the picture of my father and mother and think of the good times we had. I remember the day when I was a boy and my father and mother were sitting at the table and I was standing by the window. Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

When Uncle Wiggily Longears was paying a visit to the Wibblewobble family of ducks, Lulu, the duck who could toss a stone with her head, almost as cleverly as could her mother, Jimmie, was saying, "I wish I had a locket to wear around my neck."

"I wish I had a locket," quacked Lulu, "because a lot of the other girls at school have one. I don't see why I can't have one, too. I'll ask my mother."

"Well, I'm sorry you haven't a locket," quacked the duck lady, as she dusted a chair for Uncle Wiggily to sit on. "But there is a very good reason why you can't have one."

"What is it?" asked Lulu, and she looked at her mother, which I think you ought to have done.

"Because your father has no money to spend for lockets, with winter coming and the price of corn-meal what you know," said Mrs. Wibblewobble. "You can hear Jimmie quacking for a gold ring, do you?"

"Well, anyhow, I wish I had a locket," quacked Lulu.

Then Uncle Wiggily spoke up, and, as he is a polite man, he said, "If you could, Lulu, I'd like to see it. If he could, the other gentleman said."

"Where would you go to look for a locket?"

"Where would I look?" she asked, looking up at him.

"Down by the duck pond," answered Mr. Longears. "Yes, if I were a duck girl, I should look down by the duck pond for a locket."

Lulu said nothing, but, pretty soon, she started out. And just then Mr. Wibblewobble came home from work and his mother began talking to him. So Uncle Wiggily forgot about Lulu. Not that he forgot about her, but he forgot to tell her where to look for a locket. He had just told her to look for a locket, and he had just told her to look for a locket.

At last, after a while, it began getting dark, and Uncle Wiggily said he was going to his home or his wife was waiting for him. He was, and he was waiting for him. He was, and he was waiting for him.
